

NxGen Chuteside NOW AVAILABLE!

The all NEW NxGen Chuteside software is available! Chuteside is the communications component of the new Cow Sense NxGen Suite of products that allows you to collect data manually or automatically, both in the field or at your desk.

As the name implies, Chuteside is a valuable tool in real time application of capturing and displaying data while processing cattle. However, Chuteside also offers a robust environment as an alternative method of data entry at home or the office desk as well.

This is an Upgrade to Cow COMM and Cow COMM Pro products that our current customers may have purchased in our former version. Like its predecessors, Chuteside maintains the same functionality; however it is chucked full of many new features and customizable to the operation at hand.

Customers who have a Cow COMM or Cow COMM Pro License can purchase an upgrade to the New NxGen Chuteside at significant savings. However this is a Limited Time Offer and will expire 12/31/2017. Buy today from the Cow Sense e-Store online at:
